NAUTILUS
PUBLISHED BY THE ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF GRAYS HARBOR COLLEGE
We dedicate this annual to our dean, who has given immeasurable time and energy in helping the students and the college. He has encouraged both scholastic achievements and social activities. We sincerely appreciate the feeling of fellowship he has created and we value highly his willingness to work side by side with us.
We have fun at GHC as you can see in the above picture of students drinking in vitamin D on the front steps.

Foreword

This year members of the Nautilus staff have attempted to capture a little of the spirit of the students of Grays Harbor College. We hope that this yearbook, in future years, reminds the reader of the activities such as the “Days of ’49,” Homecoming, “Winter Wonderland,” “Dear Ruth,” and the many other events which took place at Grays Harbor during the 1948-49 school year.

We sincerely hope, too, that we have adequately mirrored the clubs, the classes, the fun and friendships which were fostered here at our community college.

This year's student body officers were George Kargianis, president; Carmela Ferri, vice-president; Gerry Reid, secretary; George Bell, treasurer. They were a fine group of officers who did a good job of performing their different duties.

George Kargianis was born July 11, 1929, in Aberdeen and moved to Hoquiam in the summer of 1947. He is six feet tall and has brown eyes and black hair. In his capacity as president, he conducted all assemblies, took charge of the executive board meetings and appointed the commissioners.

Carmela Ferri came to Aberdeen at the tender age of two months from Akron, Ohio, where she was born on March 17, 1930. She is a slender girl with dark hair and eyes. In her duties as vice-president, she worked with the assembly committee and took care of all voting during the year.

Gerry Reid was born in Tacoma, Washington, on February 4, 1930, and came to Aberdeen when she was eight years old. She is five feet, two inches tall, has green eyes and a very sweet smile. Gerry took the minutes at all the executive board meetings, and had the job of corresponding with the other colleges of Washington.

George Bell, who is blond and blue-eyed, was born on April 19, 1929, and has resided in Aberdeen all his life. Among his duties in his capacity as treasurer, he attends all the executive board meetings, where he reports on the financial state of the student body. He has regular conferences with the bursar over financial matters.

The executive board is made up of the four student body officers, George Kargianis, Carmela Ferri, Gerry Reid, George Bell, and the various commissioners. The commissioners are as follows: Ralph Hillier, Forensics; Don Baldwin, Publications; Virginia Reid and Helen Lidbom, co-chairmen of the Social Committee. The sophomore president, Walt Linne, and the freshmen president, Elmer Pellegrini, were also required to be at the meetings. The leaders or members of the various clubs could attend. Eddie Smith was the advisor of the group. The executive board usually met every other week to discuss the current business and hear the reports from the commissioners. The budget was appropriated by this group and was reported on at each meeting. Dean Hall attended many of the meetings and gave advice and new ideas on many of the school projects.
Sophomores
First semester officers for the sophomore class were:

President—Walt Linne from Hoquiam. He was a member of the IK's in his sophomore year and played basketball and baseball in his freshman and sophomore years.

Vice President—Robert Swedblom from Hoquiam. In his freshman year he played football and was a member of the Hiking Club.

Secretary—Marilyn Lamb from Hoquiam. She was a member of A. W. S. and the Chokerettes.

Treasurer—Varney Corey from Hoquiam. He played football and basketball in his sophomore year. He was president of the G. H. Club in his sophomore year.

Second semester officer were:

President—Gene Morehead from Aberdeen. He was co-chairman of the football concessions and a member of the IK's and Phi Theta Kappa.

Vice President—Betty Quigg from Hoquiam. She was a member of Chokerettes and was Secretary-Treasurer of Tyee. She was secretary of Phi Theta Kappa. In her freshman year she took part in the play of "Kind Lady" and in her sophomore year she took part in three plays, "George and Margaret", "Dear Ruth" and "Sparkin."

Secretary—Joan Scheber from Hoquiam. She was a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Chokerettes and the Timberline staff. She took part in three plays, "George and Margaret", "Dear Ruth" and "Sparkin."

Treasurer—Jerry Berg from Kent. She was a member of the Chokerettes and vice president of A. W. S. She was chairman of the Christmas formal and was on the program committee of "Dear Ruth."

Sergeant at Arms—Varney Corey from Hoquiam. He was first semester treasurer of the sophomore class.

The class donated one hundred twenty five dollars to the lounge fund for furnishings.

PROPHECY

I have always been fascinated by the future. So yesterday I hurried down to the gypsy camp by the Chehalis and asked the old gypsy what the world would be like in ten years.

She told me many changes would take place in the world. I said, "I know that GHC and my classmates of '49 will never change."

"But," she said, "they will change."

I wondered how and she told me that if I return to GHC with all my old classmates in ten years, this is what I would find—

On the front steps, three dependable old family men are basking in the sun—Jim Bates, Varney Corey, and Walt Linne. Inside sweeping by a huddle of men in the hall is Jack Jackson, Head Janitor—Poor Jack, he just couldn't bear to leave. In the huddle are George Bell, Maurice Conklin, Woodrow Bozak, and Alfred Link—all prominent engineers. They're conferring with that well-known speculator Frank Lawrence over a big deal. There is a wild scramble, someone knocked the chips over.

Bustling down the hall is Gerry Reid, Crusader for Women's Rights—She stops to pay the new Mayor of Aberdeen her respects. Mayor Kargianis accepts her compliments gracefully, and introduces two of his outstanding Councilmen—Elwood Erickson and Eugene Snider.

Lee Sing, just back from a trip to China, is telling his adventures to fellow engineers Carl Brooks, Kenneth Castile, Henry Sandstrom and Roy Spielman.

Dr. Anton Gustin, M. D. and Kenneth Teurreau are being interviewed by Harley Jones, editor of the Grays Harbor Yellow Sheet, on their views of the effects of wood alcohol on the human body. Cub reporters Tom and Dick Jacka are standing by getting pointers.

Jim Kallas, Martha Frary, and Harold Ohlinder are discussing the scientific approach and Charles Fredericks, and Paul Gribas are arguing about the rocks and trees.

Teachers Kenneth Finlayson, Bob Liebscher, and Jerry Berg agree that they never were as rowdy in school as the youngsters now. Jerry is wondering why her boys cooking class is always over-crowded—Do the boys just want to learn to cook?

Michael Hobt, and John Wilson are discussing the best place to spend a Saturday night. Lawyers Dale Pendergraft and Gregory Nelson are discussing the correct procedure of getting legal permission to build a bird house with contractors Fred Abrahamson, Jim Erickson and Wilburt Young, Bird House Builders Extraordinary and Co.

Around a card table in the middle of the room sit Ole Hoff, Jr., Ralph Harris, Glen Stanley and Gene Briscoe, Motor Cycle salesman. Jack Artz and Mike Berger, both well-beloved citizens look on, while Percy Stanfield, photographer extraordinary, who is earning his way to Texas, snaps everyone's picture.

Chatter, chatter, chatter—Three busy housewives are in the lounge comparing notes—Ida Lee Ingram and Mary Jeanne Philbrick are bothered by the high cost of living, but poor Carmela Ferri is driven to distraction now that her triplets are teething.

Dan Jones, drug store magnate is back checking up on the lunch bar. Gathered around the bar, coffee cups in hand, Bob Meyer, Bill Johnston, Vincent Aleksey, and Ben Smith, are listening to Mr. Smith's description of his newest car design — — a five-wheeled job with aluminum tires.

Junior Bogdanovich, Fran Bradach, and Ray Garrison are talking sports. It seems these three popular coaches swept all the state championships among them last year, ping pong, darts, and tiddly-winks, respectively.

Jody Schober is so nervous about her next play, that she spilled her milkshake down Betty Quigg's new Paris gown—but Helen Boora comes to the rescue—(the Model Cleaners, you know).

Marilyn Lamb is so startled by the outcry that she runs her new Cadillac into a telephone pole. But Laura Linuenkohl calms her down. Why in her second hand shop they have everything to fix her new car.

Time doesn't make so much difference in people, for we'll always see each other, as we knew each other as classmates at GHC.
Miss Lillian Borro was crowned Homecoming Queen at the Grays Harbor-Yakima football game. Princesses in attendance were Miss Gerry Reid, Miss Helen Lidbom and Miss Virginia Reid. Senator Parker crowned the queen at halftime ceremonies.

Miss Borro was selected by a student vote. She is a sophomore and hails from Montesano.

The Alumni Association and the Sophomore class of the college were in charge of the activities. Among the Homecoming events was the play "George and Margaret". An informal get-together of the alumni was held after the final performance. A Homecoming Dance was held after the Grays Harbor-Yakima game at the Vasa Hall. Aub Schmidt and his orchestra provided the music.
Freshmen

These officers were replaced in the second semester by Gene Christiansen, president; Bob Fitzpatrick, vice-president; Mary Lou Augeres, secretary and Stan Turner, treasurer.

On March 11, the freshman class presented an assembly. Connie Bergstrom was chairman and members of her committee were Donna Copeland, Bob Fitzpatrick, John Smathers and Elmer Pellegrini. The program consisted of a song by Barbara May, a skit, "Hotel Hokum", and a leg contest by the men. Alan Bennett displayed the winning pair of legs.

The class formal was a big event of the year. It was held at the Country Club, and the decorations carried out an Easter Parade theme.

Much of the class's wealth was turned over to the lounge fund.

GALLEY SLAVES

For the first time in its history, the Timberline published weekly editions this year. The paper was also increased in size by about one-third. Although these expanded activities more than doubled the work of publishing the newspaper, it still maintained its regular publication schedule, and the students of GHC received a paper each Friday except for examination and holiday periods.

Besides getting out a paper every week, the Timberline took over the production of football programs, which the Chokerettes sold at the games. The art department of the paper produced the programs for the Christmas formal, "Winterland Wonderland."

The publications mixer "Faraway Places" introduced the two school publications to the students. The dance was very well received, and the publications department hopes to make it an annual affair to welcome new students in mid-year.

The first semester staff included Harley Jones, editor; Ralph Hillier, associate editor; Frank Lawrence, sports editor; Gerry Reid, feature editor; Gene Christiansen, circulation manager; Nelda Smith, office manager; Dorothy Ann Christensen, secretary; Dale Pendergraft, business manager and the ad staff was Ann Dunlap, Ida Lee Ingram, Mary Jeanne Philbrick and Carmela Ferri. Reporters were Alger, Ellis, Pellegrini, Ranta, Smethers, Kevo, Greene, Borro, Korpi, Kowalko and Baldwin.

The second semester staff was the same except for the following additions: Brown, Carlson, Fontaine, D. Jacka, Augeres, Loris, Linnenkohl, Schober, T. Jacka, Wenham, Eubanks, Carlson, Lidbom, Kelly, Fagely and Ryan.
SHIP'S LOG

The 1949 Nautilus was edited by Frances Alger, a freshman from Shelton. Under her leadership, and with the extremely capable guidance of Mr. Armstrong as faculty advisor, the yearbook staff succeeded in putting out a publication which, we believe, will be a credit to the traditions of Grays Harbor College.

For the first time since the end of the war the Nautilus accepted advertising in its pages. Also the page size was increased over previous years. Following the directive of last year's executive board, the Nautilus was entirely produced in the Pacific Northwest, with as much being done locally as was at all possible.

The staff of the annual included Frances Alger, Editor; Mary Lou Augeres, Hugo Carlson, Glenna Fitz, Janet Kelly, Neil Fontaine, Pat Pickering, and Mary Jo Eubanks, Business; Lillian Borro, Pat Ellis and Carmela Ferri, Make-up; Helen Lidbom was Copy Editor, and the bulk of the writing was done by the Journalism class. Other staff heads were: Gerry Reid, Sophomores; Frank Lawrence and Dexter Ranta, Sports; Marvin Keizur and Percy Stanfield, Photographers; Virginia Reid and Connie Bergstrom, Freshmen; Wayne Campbell, Art; Beverly Carlson, Typist; Harley Jones, Consultant.

Besides publication of the yearbook, the staff found time to co-sponsor the first publications dance ever to be held and to participate in the founding of the Washington Junior College Press Conference. The publications department also initiated action toward establishing a local press conference for those interested in working on publications.

FRANCES ALGER

The officers for Phi Theta Kappa during the first semester were Tony Gustin, president; Ida Lee Ingram, vice-president; Gerry Reid, treasurer, and Betty Quigg, secretary. Mr. Colistro is the advisor.

Phi Theta Kappa is a national honorary society and members are students in the upper ten per cent of the student body, scholastically.

At the beginning of the second semester eighteen students were eligible to pledge Phi Theta Kappa. They were George Kargianis, Virginia Reid, Carl Brooks, Jean Olson, Jackie Olson, Ralph Hillier, Mary Lou Augerces, John Hughes, Glenna Fitz, Warren Greenwell, Al Lauber, Jody Schober, Harold Olinder, Gene Morehead, Bill Johnston, Wilbur Young, Pat Pickering and Jim Abrahamson.

Election of second semester officers was held on March 4, and the new officers were John Hughes, president; Gerry Reid, vice-president; Glenna Fitz, treasurer and Jackie Olson, secretary.

Phi Theta Kappa members worked hard to collect food donations from many stores for the Gold Rush Revue. They also aided in cleaning up the new school lot.

An award was made by Phi Theta Kappa at the end of the second semester. The award, a cup with the winner’s name inscribed on it, will go to the student having the highest accumulative grade points for two years.
SHIP'S DEBATERS

Grays Harbor College's progress along the highway of success was given a helpful push by the forensics department of the school. This active and integral part of college life this year captured the attention of nine students. The speech participants represented Grays Harbor College in four forensic tournaments and came from each with honors.

Seven debaters, formed into three teams, analyzed the question "Resolved: that the federal government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunity in tax-supported schools by means of annual grants." Participating in the Pacific Northwest tournament at the College of Puget Sound, the Pacific Coast Forensics Tourney at Linfield College, the Saint Martin's College Invitational Tournament and the Washington State Junior College Debate Tournament, the debaters won twenty-seven debates. The team of George Kargianis and Ralph Hillier defeated thirteen of the teams they faced. Harley Jones and Dale Pendergraft won eleven events. Nick Kowalko, Frank Lawrence and Gerry Schumacher defeated two opponents.

Three trophies were won by the GHC speakers at the junior college meet. Ralph Hillier placed first among the field of men orators. Glenna Fitz took first in women's oratory and Pat Pickering won second in the same event. Dale Pendergraft and Harley Jones captured the second place cup in debate.

George Kargianis placed second in extemporaneous speaking and was named the best after-dinner speaker in the meet. The GHC was awarded the sweepstakes honors and for the second year in a row claimed the state championship.

Professor A. J. Hillier, debate coach, expressed his pride in the results of his squad's efforts. "It is very gratifying that our school is recognized as being in the top group as far as the quality and art of debating is concerned," was his comment.
The Drama Class of 1948-1949, under the direction of Miss Grace Gorton, presented two comedies, and attended the Drama Festival at Clark College.

The first play they presented was the two act comedy “George and Margaret.” The cast for this play included: Alice, Elizabeth Quigg; Malcolm, Fred Johnson; Gladys, Constance Bergstrom; Frankie, Donna Copeland; Claude, George Kargianis; Dudley, Hugo Carlson; Beer, Helen Boora; and Roger, Alan Bennett.

“Dear Ruth” was presented March 3 and 4. A new-comer to Grays Harbor, Barbara May, lead the cast as Ruth Wilkins. Edith and Judge Harry Wilkins were played by Elizabeth Quigg and Michael Berger respectively. Ruth’s younger sister Miriam was played by JoAnn Schober. Her future brother-in-law Lt. William Scawright was portrayed by Fred Johnson, his army pal, St. Chuck Vincent was played by Hugo Carlson. Sgt. Vincent’s girl, Martha Scawright, was portrayed by Virginia Reid. Another unexpected visitor like Lt. Scawright was Harold Klobbermeyer, played by Joe Roberts. Last, but not least, Albert Kum¬mer, Ruth’s first fiance was Robert Fitzpatrick.

A group of drama students attended the Drama Festival at Vancouver March 25 and 26. A one-act play “Sparkin’” was presented.

Those attending the festival were Jody Schober, Betty Quigg, Barbara May, Fred Johnson, Hugo Carlson, and Frances Alger. They received very good comments from Kenneth Carr of the University of Washington.
The Associated Women Students functioned this year under the leadership of President Ida Lee Ingram, who was ably assisted by Jerry Berg, vice-president; Mary Jeanne Philbrick, secretary; and Susie George, treasurer. Due to the change in the student body constitution, for the first time, the officers elected at the beginning of the year held their positions for the entire school term.

The annual fall tea honoring the new women faculty members and students was given at the home of the president in October.

As their first project, the group took charge of selling hot dogs, cokes, and candy in the concessions of the home football games. Especially active in the concession work were Marilyn Dunlap, Mary Jeanne Philbrick, Laura Linnenkohl and Carmela Ferri.

AWS then sponsored a Halloween Mixer, held on Friday, October 22, in the Orange Room of the Morck Hotel. Jerry Berg was general chairman for the affair.

Because there were too many conflicts, the annual Christmas party was cancelled. To help maintain Christmas spirit in the college, however, the organization donated to the school five strings of Christmas tree lights, as well as some ornaments. The task of decorating the school tree was given to the Associated Women as an annual project.

In January the March of Dimes Drive was conducted by the AWS and for one week a table was set up in the hall and girls were on duty to collect the donations for this worthy cause.

During the second semester, the meetings of the girls were held monthly in the women's lounge at noon. They concluded the year's activities with the annual Spring Tea honoring the mothers of all college students.
Tyee is the women’s honorary activity society of Grays Harbor College. Only nine members can be elected each year. Membership is based on character and scholarship.

The officers were president, Gerry Reid, vice-president, Jerry Berg; secretary-treasurer, Betty Quigg; and historian, Carmela Ferri. The adviser is Miss Anne Holey.

The informal initiation was held March 24 at the home of Miss Betty Quigg. The candle light ceremony followed a buffet dinner. Those initiated were Mary Lou Augeres, Beverly Carlson, Helen Lidbom, Barbara Johnston, Jacqueline Olson, Jeanine Olson, Patricia Pickering, Virginia Reid, and Carol Wall.

This year the club purchased drapes for the girl’s lounge, and had charge of the Coffee Bar during the first semester. The members all served on various student body committees, and they acquired the first Grays Harbor College car stickers. Tyees were also in charge of the ballot box for Homecoming.

The Grays Harbor chapter of Intercollegiate Knights opened this year's activities by formally severing their relationships with the national chapter and declaring themselves the Independent Knights of Grays Harbor. Ken Castile was president, assisted by Gene Morehead, vice-president; Jim Erickson, secretary; Bob Fitzpatrick, treasurer and Mr. Blaine, advisor.

The I. K.'s spent an active year in the service and social life of GHC. The Knights, headed by Gene Morehead, operated the concession stands at the Choker home football contests. They again conducted the brightest social event, the annual Sweetheart Shuffle, held on February 19. Helen Lidbom was named sweetheart. The honor fraternity also made the arrangements for the final week of the “Days of ’49” month, sponsoring the Centennial Jubilee. Ken Castile was chairman.

Those included in the membership list are Jim Erickson, Ken Castile, Chuck Fredericks, Glen Stanley, Ben Smith, Gene Morehead, John Wilson, John O’Leary, Bob Fitzpatrick, George Kargianis, Tony Gustin, Mike Hobi, John Hughes, Ralph Hillier, George Bell, Eldon Odle, Al Cedros, Hank Cedros, Walt Linne and Jim Boettcher.

The Knights ended their social year by staging a large party for their members and friends.
Under the capable leadership of President Bill Johnston, the Engineers Club of Grays Harbor College had a busy, progressive year.

To get things rolling last fall, a committee headed by Carl Brooks and Johnston met and drew up the first charter that the club has ever had. The most pertinent article written into this charter was one restricting membership to engineer students only. In the years past, all interested students, regardless of their majoring subject, were allowed to join.

Officers chosen at later meetings were: Ben Smith, vice-president; Ed Leedom, secretary; Warren Greenwell, treasurer; and Hank Sandstrom, sergeant-at-arms.

On November 4, the Engineers went on an inspection tour of the U.S.S. Johnny Hutchins, a destroyer escort anchored at Port Dock in Aberdeen. Their advisor, Mr. Blaine, who is also a member of the Naval reserve, led the tour. Other field trips were taken last spring to the Boeing aircraft plant in Seattle and to Ocean City, Washington to see an oil well in operation.

The “Slide Rule Stomp,” the Engineers’ dance held February 25, went over with a bang.
Bad weather kept the Grays Harbor College ski club from taking many of the trips that they had planned during the year.

The one and only trip that the club made was to the Summit at Snoqualmie pass on December 5. Club members went by car and furnished their own equipment and food. This trip had been originally planned for Mt. Rainier, but the roads were too snowy and icy to make it up there. The club planned a trip to Mt. Rainier for the latter part of February but again adverse weather conditions caused the trip to be canceled.

Jack Jackson was elected president of this enthusiastic group at their first meeting, November 17. Elwood Erickson was chosen as vice-president; and Virginia Reid, secretary-treasurer.

STUDENT CHRISTIAN

Some twenty students were present at the first meeting of the Student Christian Association held November 3, 1948. The following were chosen as officers for the year: President, Pat Pickering; vice-president, Jim Bates; and secretary-treasurer, Percy Stanfield. Mary Lou Augeres, Nick Kowalko, Dorothy Christensen, and Lillian Boro were appointed as special aids to the officers. Professor A. J. Hillier was the faculty advisor for the group.

The first project of the year was sponsoring the sale of tuberculosis pins and seals in the early part of December. The project was very successful.

During Christmas vacation, a group of members, led by Hugo Carlson, went carolling.

One of the last plans of the year was to help in some way the possibilities of getting a new lawn. Gene Christiansen was named to head the committee.
Ralph Hillier took it upon himself this year to be student director of the pep band, which appeared at all of the home football games, and at the Centralia game, there. They also turned out for some of the home basketball games.

Those in the band were Carol Wall, Mayme Messenger, Barbara Johnston, Ken Tetreau, Jim Luark, Jim Kretz, William Kalinowski and Hillier.

For the first time in the history of Grays Harbor College, the school was represented by majorettes. Dean Hall saw our need for these colorful entertainers, and he called for volunteers. Lillian Borro and Beverly Carlson answered the call. Uniforms were ordered and the girls began practicing under the supervision of Mr. Otto Eklund. Our majorettes made their initial appearance in the latter part of the second semester.
Glenna Fitz and Shirley Folsom boosted the student and team morale as song queens from the first football game on through the basketball season. Rain or shine they led school songs and kept spirits high. The song queens looked cute and peppy in blue flared skirts lined in gray satin, and gray sweaters with the blue and gray college emblems. They deserve a real vote of thanks for their fine spirit.

Grays Harbor College students elected Dave Castagno, Yell King and Dick and Tom Jacka, Yell Dukes, to keep the spirit of GHC high during football and basketball season. Their pep and energy was endless, and they worked hard at all the pep assemblies. Their good sense of humor, and “corny jokes”, kept all the students laughing.

The Chokerettes were organized last year to promote school spirit and pep at games. They began their activities this year by selling programs at all of the college football games and attended all the home games as a rooting section. During the football season they held a dance with the theme of “Pom Poms.” The Chokerettes gave a pep assembly for one of the basketball games and sponsored another dance in January after the Choker and Centralia Trailblazer game. Their main event of the year was the annual “Sadie Hawkins Dance” during the “days of ’49” held March 1 through April 2.

The club supported the lounge, by aiding them with funds, which were made by giving dances.

Miss Lawrence was the club advisor; Lillian Borro, president; Marilyn Dunlap, vice-president; Barbara Johnston, secretary; Beverly Carlson, treasurer.

The Grays Harbor club is made up of men who have made a letter in a sport. The purpose of the lettermen’s club is to encourage sportsmanship and to promote interest in athletics.

The officers were Varney Corey, president; Bob Fitzpatrick, vice-president; Frank Lawrence, secretary-treasurer and Don Eldart, sergeant-at-arms.

The members of the club were Bill Johnston, Ken Castile, Dennis Bochenski, Gene Briscoe, Gene Snider, Glen Stanley, Varney Corey, Ken Dahlstal, Walt Linne, Frank Lawrence, Tom Jacka, Dick Jacka, Ken Tetreau, Bob Meyer, Bob Kevo, Dick Brock, Rolle Fagely, Gordon Anderson, Charles Heikkinen, Ray Garrison, Francis Bradich, Mike Hobi, Hank Cedros, Ted Lea, Dick Canfield, Bob Fitzpatrick, Ole Hoff, Wallace Waugh, Jerry Smith, Don Christiansen, Marion Bogdanovich, Harley Hansen, Sam Brasfield, Don Eldart, Eldon Odle, Don Morris, Neil Fontaine, Don Mandich, John Smathers and Earl Davis.
Choker football last fall began with a 25 to 19 defeat at the hands of Centralia JC. Before their initial defeat, Coach Dan Melinkovich's Chokers were doped to be potentially strong. After that first game however, fans began to think Grays Harbor would be just another mediocre team. The remaining games confirmed their original beliefs, however, as the Chokers finished their season with six wins and two losses. This gained them a tie for second place in the Washington State Junior College Conference.

Here is a brief summary of the past football season:

CENTRALIA-GHC. With both teams displaying a terrific air attack, the score was tied at 19 to 19 at the end of the third quarter. In the closing minutes of the game Centralia scored what proved to be the margin of victory. Final score, Centralia 25—GHC 19.

LOWER COLUMBIA-GHC. In the Choker's first home game, they played a strong first half, scoring 13 points. The Columbians scored twice in the second half, but Rollie Fagely's conversion after the second touchdown was the deciding point. Final score, Lower Columbia 12—GHC 13.

WENATCHEE-GHC. The Chokers came back from their longest trip of the season with a 14 to 2 victory. Grays Harbor again scored 12 points in the first half, then coasted to victory. Final score, Wenatchee 2—GHC 14.

CLARK-GHC. Led by Junior Bogdanovich, Choker scatback, Grays Harbor scored the most points in one game of the season against a scrappy Clark eleven. Scoring in every period, The Chokers made a rout of the game. The Pinguins scored their only touchdown late in the final quarter to avoid a shutout. Coach Melinkovich sent in all of his reserves. Final score, Clark 7—GHC 45.

U. of W. FROSH-GHC. In the only non-conference game of the season, Grays Harbor was beaten at Olympic Stadium in Hoquiam by the University of Washington Frosh 38 to 19. The Chokers were behind 13 to 12 at halftime. Final score again was U. of W. 38—GHC 19.

EVERETT-GHC. The Chokers suffered the second defeat of the conference season to Everett on a rain soaked field. Wally Waugh scored all of the Choker points on passes from all-conference quarterback, Tea Lea. Final score, Everett 15—GHC 7.

OLYMPIC-GHC. The Chokers again got back into the win column at the expense of the Olympic Rangers. The game played before a local crowd was highlighted by the brilliant passing and pass receiving exhibition displayed by Grays Harbor's all-conference, Ted Lea, quarterback, to Gene Snider, end. Final score, Olympic 12—GHC 20.

SKAGIT VALLEY-GHC. Grays Harbor score a 27 to 6 victory in the last game away from home over the Skagit Valley Cardinals. Highlights of the game were Les Piccolo's slender play that went for a Choker touchdown, and Junior Bogdanovich of Grays Harbor, who accidentally lattered to a Cardinal player who went all the way for a Skagit Valley score. Final score, Skagit Valley 6—GHC 27.

YAKIMA-GHC. The highlight of the Homecoming weekend was the Yakima-GHC game, and the crowning of homecoming queen Lillian Borro. Grays Harbor scored 20 points in the first half then coasted to victory. Final score, Yakima 13—GHC 20.

Two Chokers made the official JC All-conference team, Ted Lea and Gene Snider. Lea compiled the most votes for one player of the whole all-conference squad. Snider was awarded the team inspirational award, and Lea was elected honorary captain. The Coaches' award given to a member or members of the squad chosen by the coaches, went to Neil Fontaine, tackle, and Gene Briscoe, fullback, this year.

The members of the 1948-49 Grays Harbor College basketball team were Bob Kevo, Gordon Anderson, Ted Lea and John Smathers from Aberdeen. Bill Johnston, Varney Corey, Floyd La Croix, Gene Woods and Walt Linne from Hoquiam. Richard Brock and Charles Heikkinen, Montesano; Ray Garrison, Olympia; Bob Meyer, Casey, Iowa; and Rollie Fagely, Jersey City, New Jersey.

It was Dan Melinkovich's first year coaching the Chokers, and the team scored 754 points in 16 games for an average of 47 points per game. Dick Brock was the leading scorer with 161 points.

The Chokers' highest score was in the game against Centralia, which they won 72-63. The GHIC five gave the University Frosh a very hard game. Although the highly-favored Frosh won the game 52-48, they found that the boys from the Harbor had a lot on the ball.

When the Chokers first met Olympic JC of Bremerton, the conference winners, they played one of their best games. The high scoring Olympic five nearly lost their first game that night. GHIC lost by only six points 38-32, and gave Olympic the biggest scare of the season.
The Choker baseball team opened the season with Clark College at Vancouver, April 8. The Junior college conference was divided into a northern and southern league with Grays Harbor, Centralia, Clark and Lower Columbia forming the southern division. The league champions met for the conference championship.

"I was well satisfied with the fight and spirit shown by the Chokers this spring," Coach Ed Smith announced.
Showing steady improvement throughout the track season, the Chokers’ well-balanced track and field team finished the 1949 season well satisfied with their showing. Starting the year with six lettermen, the Choker thin-clads began limbering-up drills in the gym on March 4.

The Choker track schedule opened April 9 with a triangular meet at Emerson Field in Hoquiam with Centralia and Lower Columbia Jaycees.

The remainder of the schedule was as follows:

April 23—Triangular meet with Centralia and Olympic of Bremerton at Centralia.
April 30—Rotary relays at Longview.
May 7—St. Martin’s relays at Olympia.
May 14—State meet at Vancouver.

Robert J. Blaine coached the Choker cindermen this year, and, as we all know, did a remarkable job.

MERMEN

The first all-college swim team under the direction of Coach Doug McQuaig splashed through two meets this season.

Although opposed by only Olympic of Bremerton, the swimmers gained much from the experience, which will help the boys who will be returning next year. They are Jim Boettcher, Jim Bates and Don Eldart. Also, the team will be strengthened by the new swimmers coming from the high schools.

The team, lead by Captain George Kargianis, lost both meets, but they have started a tradition at Grays Harbor College, which will be continued. Heretofore, the college swimmers swam with the high school team, but this year they had a team composed entirely of college students.
